We Speak McDonald's® Fluently

CT&M HAS A PLAN TO WIN

A lot has changed since Ray Kroc franchised the first McDonald's® restaurant in the 1950s. Today, meeting the many accounting needs of a McDonald's® restaurant is no easy task. Every step of the way — from store acquisitions to monthly financial statements, income taxes to computer consulting — you need the help of experts.

At Chunowitz, Teitelbaum & Mandel, Ltd. (CT&M), that's what we are all about. Just as you deliver the great taste of McDonald's® every day, every order at CT&M comes complete with the expertise of a seasoned professional. We're all experts in our specialities. And experts in your special needs.

In fact, since 1973, we've helped generations of McDonald's® owner-operators meet all of the accounting and consulting needs — and watched their businesses grow. We know we can help you, too.

WE DELIVER EXTRA VALUE

We want to be more than your accountant. We want to work as your partner in every service we provide. Let's say you're ready to acquire a store. We can provide you with pricing models and cash flow projections to help you make an informed decision and take the right first steps. We can put your financing package together for you and keep it up to date, as required. And, we can recommend the business structure — corporation, partnership, or proprietorship — that is right for you.

With our knowledge of the special needs of McDonald's® owner-operators, we can put an accounting system in place that keeps your day-to-day business running smoothly — including monthly financial statements, payroll, budgeting, tax planning, and government reporting. We can even set you up with computer equipment and a software solution that makes the most sense for your needs now — and for the future.

In short, with CT&M accounting and consulting expertise on your side, you're in business!
